Author gives hope to hurting people!

Hurting people everywhere can be helped by this workbook designed straight from the heart of a local woman to the Mid-south.

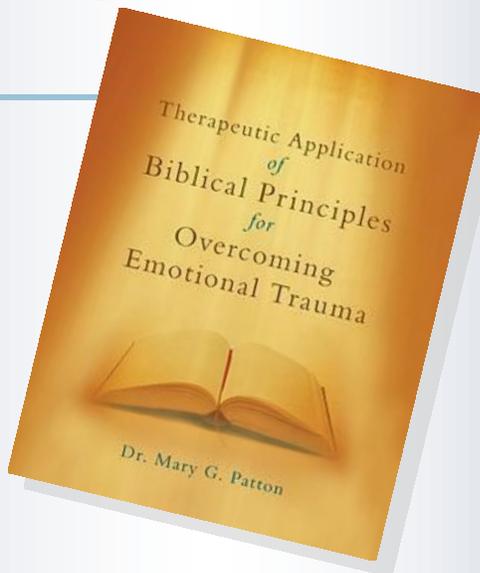

Dr. Mary G. Patton, a retired educator and Christian psychotherapist, is reaching out to heal the hurt of those suffering emotionally by offering customized sessions for private individuals, groups and corporations focused on her workbook teachings and strategies applied through, “Therapeutic Application of Biblical Principles for Overcoming Emotional Trauma.”

Healing The Hurt, Cause. Effect. Cure. These intensive workbook sessions are designed to walk victims of emotional trauma through their anguish and pain and put them on the road to lasting recovery.

Dr. Patton asserts that her sessions with workbook applications will help attendees to uncover, identify, confront, and manage their emotions associated with past trauma. She further asserts that the principles and techniques presented in the content will provide tools to heal the hurt of past trauma and lead to improved quality of life and relationships with others. Even though the workbook was written to address abuse trauma, the sessions are appropriate for any trauma experience because the body processes emotional pain the same regardless of its origin.

She has used the principles and techniques outlined in her workbook for over 14 years with extraordinary success! Dr. Patton has an empathetic nature that cannot be called anything other than a gift from God. This gift has helped her connect with people of various ages and cultures, and can be felt when reading through the pages of her workbook which is changing lives! Dr. Patton is also the author of Emotional Trauma in School: Cause, Effect, Cure.

Dr. Mary G. Patton has a Ph. D. degree in Education Counseling, and a Master’s degree in Counseling Psychology.
